Chronology and catalogue links — assessed 10-10-2026: See the Institutional Involvement Roadmap (1877–2026) for the date-ordered institution, people and evidence sequence. Related heritage-file lead: GHF-E152 — reported Cadw letter to the Minister (1988; original awaited).

2.1 Forensic Assessment — Barry Preservation Society / Civic Trust

Scope: civil-society preservation bodies only. They are not treated as public regulators or title decision-makers.

2.1.1 Role

The preservation movement is relevant as contextual evidence of the contemporary public significance attributed to Great House Farm and the attempt to prevent demolition. Its evidence can corroborate chronology, representations and who was advocating preservation.

2.1.2 Forensic control test

Identify exactly what records the Society/Civic Trust held or generated: correspondence, petitions, photographs, minutes, submissions, contact with Cadw or the Council, and any records of the 1988 campaign.

2.1.3 Current finding

No adverse institutional finding is established. Public campaigning or preservation advocacy is not evidence of title, and absence of surviving papers is not evidence of destruction by any particular actor. [?]

2.1.4 Human action

Seek surviving minute books, correspondence and deposited archival material, with exact dates and recipients. Cross-check any preservation representation against the Council/Cadw records.

Acceptance: each surviving item is catalogued and linked to the relevant decision/control point.

2.2 Institutional appearance timeline — linked source index

Coverage rule: this is a chronological navigation map of published Wiki source pages found by searching the current site index for "Barry Preservation Society". Every event label links directly to the page containing the source. The page is intended to avoid duplicating source narratives. It records mention/appearance, not culpability. The displayed date is a source/title date cue, not automatically the date on which the named institution acted. This matters for newspaper stories, later summaries and titles naming more than one event; open the source before attributing an act. Search indexing is a discovery aid, not proof of exhaustive coverage. [?]

As at 10-10-2026, no direct evidence-page result was found in the current indexed search for this institution. This search limitation is not a finding that no record exists. The next step is to add a source-specific link when a relevant record is identified. [?]

2.2.1 Records-access register appearances — direct row links

Rows below match the institution's name or an alias in the reply register's sender/reference or recorded description. A match shows an appearance in the records trail, not necessarily an act by this institution.

No matching reply-register row was found for this name/alias set. That is not evidence that no correspondence exists; broaden the alias search when new records are added. [?]
